

International Classification of Rodent Tumours: Part 1: The Rat Fascicle No. 6: Endocrine System (IARC Scientific Publications) (Pt.1)

This is the sixth in a series of fascicles comprising an international classification of rodent tumors that provides information and guidelines for international use in practical toxicologic pathology. In a concise, easy-to-use format, essential information on each lesion is presented with typical micrographs selected from both spontaneous and induced lesions. The complete range of organ systems in the rat is covered in the series of 10 fascicles. Fascicle 6 covers the endocrine system. This classification will harmonize and standardize the nomenclature and diagnostic criteria to be used worldwide for regulatory purposes.
